They Hope For. [Frem Our Regular Correspondent.] (From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, April 2.—There has been great agitation here for several days over the conference which the Wise wing of the Republican party in Virginia were said to be preparing to hold. Yesterday was the appointed day, but owing to the damp, disagreeable weather and the failure of some of the anti-Mahone men to arrive no formal conference was held. Only a few of the sati-Mahone people got together. These were ex-Senator Riddleberger, ex Governor Cameron, Winfield Scott, of Floyd Courthouse, and C. A. Heermans, of Montgomery county. The followers of Mahone were disposed has hight to make fun of the gathering, and they spread the report that were disposed has high to have a gathering, and they spread the report that John Wise and Dick Wise, who were expected to show up, had not done so, and therefore the conference was a "fizzle." This morning ex-Congressman Brady, of Petersburg, put in an appearance, but Petersburg, put in an appearance, but strange to say be denies that it was the intenstrange to say be denies that it was the intention of the anti-Mahone people to hold a first of course it is natural for the opponents of Mahone to get together and talk when any of them are in the city. Colonel Brady even said that he had been surjetised to hear that there was to be any conference whatever, and declared that he knew nothing of any such intention on the part of his side of the house. He just happened in, and of course had met some of his political friends who also bappened to be in the city.

Riddleberger and Cameron bave their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel, and they have been here for several days. The Mahone people are considerably worked up over the presence of the ex-Seuator, the ex-Governor, and the ex-Representative. They Governor, and the ex-Representative. They have been trying to create the impression that the wings were about to flop together, and to have the "subts" here at this time with rumors flying thick and fast that the old fight is to be kept up is not good for the would-be boss in his efforts to make Harrison believe that William Mahone is the undispeted leader of the Republican forces in Virginia. One of the followers of Mahone denied this morning that Riddleberger was identifying himself with the Wise faction. "Riddleberger," said the anxious Mahoneite, "is trying to make peace. He wants both factions to quit fighting and to shake hands, and I think really that the main from the Valley wants to get back into the Mahone ranks." into the Mahone ranks." DISPUTED IT.

Another Mahone benchman disputed the story. He said he knew that Riddleberger wanted to keep up the fight, and the very fact that he had been with Cameron so much during the past few days was evidence that he intended to train with that wing.

"When is Mahone going back to Petersburg?" was a question put to one of his followers this morning.

"Not for some time," was the reply.
"He is going to stay here and fight this thing out. There is no back-down in him, and he is going to have the thing settled before he returns to Virginia."

Quite a number of Mahone's followers are in the city at present, and some of them have been here for more than two weeks. Colonel Asa Rogers, of Petersburg, one of his staumchest adherents, is seen almost daily at the down-town botels, and Brown Allen, of Augusta, is constantly moving about to at the down-town hotels, and Brown Allen, of Augusta, is constantly moving about to find out what is going on. Lester, of Blacksburg, is here also, and James Frazier, of Rockbridge, comes and goes. Brown Allen was an applicant for Captein Ham Sheppard's place as collector of internal revenue, but has pulled out in the interest of James Frazier, and is now said to be pushing for chief of inspectors in the Post-Office Department. The place pays $3,000 per year, and it is said that Allen relies largely on outside influence to land him into the position.

Trouble Among River-Lund Settlers. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Fort Debes, Iowa, April 2.—The old ex-citement among the river-land settlers has been revived by the resumption of evictions. At an early hour yesterday a large number of settlers, fully equipped with machinery and seed, started to plant crops on the farms from which settlers had been evicted last fall. This action is in keeping with the threat that they would reposess them-selves of all lands from which they were then evicted. The farm of Charles Pigman, from which William Spainhower was evicted twice list fall, was first visited during Pig-man's absence. When he returned a few bours heer he found his fields alive with men and teams sowing crops for an evicted settler. Pigman came to this city at once and fied information against as many of the settlers as be knew and warrants will be issued for

WEST POINT, VA., April 2, 1889.

Mr. P. Gibson, of Frazker's Ferry, this county, one of the best known and most popular citizens of this county, has sold his farm Frazier's and his interest in the mercantile business to Mr. W. P. Bray, and will move from the county. He has not vet determined where his fature home is to be, but it is probable he will spend a considerable portion of his time in Richmond. His move is greatly regretted by his neighbors.

It is understood that Judge G. Taylor Genreit and George Henrey. Esq., of Mathews, who recently amounced their purpose to move to Florence, Ala., have reconsidered and will remain in Mathews for the present, at least. [Correspondence of the Hichmond Dispatch.]
